Copyright Act 98 of 1978
3 Definitions

The "Artistic Works" are defined as:

- "The world's art creations" or "the artistic creations of the world's artists."
- "The artistic creations of the world's artists, as they exist in the world's historical and dialectical development."
The scope of the paper is to explore the effects of cultural factors on the adoption of computing technology in organizations. The study is based on a survey of 100 organizations across various industries in the United States. The results indicate that cultural factors, such as collectivism vs. individualism, play a significant role in the adoption of computing technology. The paper concludes with recommendations for managers to consider cultural factors in their technology adoption strategies.
